California Ranch News

The dates of the seventeenth National Orange show at San Bernardino are February 17 to 27.

A short course in deciduous fruits and grapes was given at the University Farm, Davis, during the week of November 29 to December 4.

The 2,400,000 pounds of almonds grown by the Arbuckle association members were handled this year for a half-cent a pound, according to the report of the association.

Pomegranates have been shipped from Brawley to the market for some weeks. This fruit does well in the locality and could become a profitable crop if there was a larger demand.

Cultivating chrysanthemums for market is an industry started at Ukiah by Mrs. Ellen Hunt. The flowers grown by Mrs. Hunt are unusually large and rich in coloring.

At the recent annual meeting of the Highgrove Fruit association, A. B. Cumming, manager, reported that the organization had just closed its most successful year from a financial point of view.

The owners of considerable areas of alkali lands in the Imperial valley have been watching developments in rice growing with much interest. Experiments conducted this year have encouraged them not a little.

Increase of interest in the production of alfalfa seed in the Palo Verde valley is indicated in the fact that eighty tons of high-class seed has been grown by valley farmers this year as against fifteen tons in 1925.

Twenty sheep and eight steers carried the University of California colors into the show rings of the Chicago International Livestock Association this year. This greatest of all American shows was held November 27 to December 4.

It is estimated that there are now 3,000,000 hens in Kings county and that the value of eggs produced annually amounts to $1,000,000. Hatcheries in the county turned out fully 100,000 chicks this season, and nearly all of them were purchased locally.

The first carload of new-crop navel oranges from the Riverside district, was shipped from Highgrove Mutual Citrus Association's packing house November 15. The fruit was of good quality, testing high for sugar content and of splendid color. The car went to Kansas City.

Noel Curtis of the Mission section near Redlands, is harvesting his crop of Hachiya persimmons. From about 400 trees now in full bearing he states that he has secured over 800 pounds a tree, and claims returns of $800 an acre, which he regards as about as profitable as anything he can grow.

N. L. McFarlane, a graduate of the college of agriculture, University of California, has taken up the work of assistant to Farm Adviser M. M. Winslow, of Riverside county. Mr. McFarlane majored in animal husbandry at Berkeley and Davis, and has had practical experience in growing field crops and deciduous fruits.

Roscoe Hoover, Pomona pigeon fancier, has received word that not only did his birds win notably at the Philadelphia Sesqui-centennial pigeon show, but that sixteen birds entered in the pigeon exhibition at the Texas Cotton Palace Show at Waco., Tex., won eleven firsts, three seconds, two thirds and a championship, the latter in the muff tumbler class.

Small ranchers in the Owensmouth district have had success with sweet potatoes this season. Little care was required and the results were pleasing, both from a standpoint of size and of number of tubers to the hill. Commercial growers between Owensmouth and Van Nuys have had good sweet potato crops. White potato growers have had fair success, but soil and climate appear to be better adapted to the "sweets."

M. B. Rounds, farm adviser of Los Angeles county, says that the approved practice in fertilizing citrus orchards with organic material is to use the bulky ones in the fall and the ones more quickly available in the spring. Straw, which disintegrates rather slowly, should be used in the fall. Alfalfa, on the other hand, is more readily broken down and may be applied during the winter and spring. Manure in general should be applied in the fall, but manure of good quality from cows fed on alfalfa may be applied later.

Golden State
News of Interest to All

Detailed information as to the population and village sites of the Indians of the Sacramento and San Joaquin river delta districts during the Spanish regime over a hundred years ago has just been collected from old documents in the possession of the University of California and published in bulletin form by W. Egbert Schenck, research associate. The documents from which Schenck worked are chiefly preserved in the form of dairies of Spanish priests who accompanied various expeditions, either punitive or of exploration, into the land of the delta Indian villages, from the year 1772 until the influx of whites in 1849. Practically all of these documents are now in possession of the university Bancroft library, either in original manuscript or in copy.

A monster bear that had been a terror on Oak Run, Shasta county, for months and which doubtless had been responsible for the disappearance of several calves, was finally trapped and killed by O. L. Rose on Thanksgiving day. Rose used two traps in making the capture. He set out a single trap ten days ago. The bear was caught in that trap, but it was not strong enough to hold him. Rose then set out two traps below the bait attached to a pole. In the bear's effort to get at the bait he was caught in both traps—a foot in each trap. Rose finished bruin by shooting him while held fast by the traps. The brown bear in life must have weighed 600 pounds, for after having been dressed the weight was 575 pounds.

A campaign to prevent ruthless cutting and theft of mountain evergreens for Christmas trees was launched by Placer county authorities with the endorsement of State Forester M. B. Pratt, who expressed the hope that other counties will join in the movement. The Placer county board of supervisors passed an ordinance prohibiting any person from cutting Christmas trees without written consent of the owner of the land, and establishing a maximum penalty for violators of 100 days in jail and a $100 fine. The State Forester estimated that 10,000 young trees were slashed down on private holdings in Placer county alone during 1925 season.

Architectural plans are being prepared for a $400,000 junior high school building to be built on Modoc Road, Santa Barbara, for the Santa Barbara Board of Education.

There is every indication that the Fandango unit of timber lying in the northeastern part of the Modoc National Forest and involving some 13,000 acres of national forest lands will be readvertised.

Saturday, December 18, has been fixed as the date for the dedication of Woodland Lodge of Elks' new club recently erected and completely furnished at a cost of about $70,000. The past exalted rulers of the lodge with R. G. Lawson, the first exalted ruler of the lodge, chairman, have charge of the extended program incident to the great day in the history of the lodge.

Rodeo sports and perpetuation of frontier sports was assured when the Ukiah Chamber of Commerce acting in collaboration vith the Covelo Rodeo association announced plans to spend $20,000 on the Ukiah track. This is coincident with the decision to move the race track from Covelo to Ukiah. The site of the new track is on the Redwood highway, a mile north of Ukiah.

Despite the inclement weather, quite a number of Rio Oso families gathered at the community hall on Thanksgiving afternoon and enjoyed the good things that are connected with the Thanksgiving festival. Rio Oso, in general, has reaped a splendid harvest this year and the people of the community felt they wanted to express thankfulness in a public spirited manner.

Yucaipa numbers only about 100 families, but it staged as noble an apple show November 11 to 14 as if it numbered many thousands. And the Women's Club of the community sponsored the festival, its manager Mrs. Etta Schrock, seeing it through when the local chamber of commerce considered the financial risk too great. Incidentally, the club made some money.

With the exception of a coat of oil on the roof, the old hotel and officers' quarters at Fort Ross, near Santa Rosa, built by the Russians near their church in 1812, have been restored by the state of California, and the old land mark will now withstand the rigors of many more winters on the Sonoma coast. The restoration work was not modern, but retains the style of architecture of the period in which it was originally built. The new roads to Fort Ross now make it possible for thousands of people to annually inspect the famous land mark. The church has been restored.

TO MAKE S. C. COUNTY WORLD ROSE GARDEN

The Second Annual Fiesta De Las Rosas Planting Committee of the Santa Clara County Flower Lovers Clubs have designated December tenth as the official Planting Day for this year.

Every school in the county has received roses and has been visited by a member of the Planting Committee during the early part of this week. Instructions have been given to each principal and instructor and regular programs concerning the significance of the rose as the "Queen of Flowers" will be carried out on December 10th.

Mrs. Fremont Older, chairman along with the others of her committee, have met with the school authorities and County Superintendent, Joseph E. Hancock, and planned suggestive programs for the school children.

The following is the suggested program:

The committee has urged the schools to plant red roses as much as possible. The best varieties are: Crmison Queen, Hadley, Hoosier Beauty, Gruss an Teplitz, and Richmond.

Suggested varieties of white roses are Silver moon, Cochet, K. A. Victoria and Frau Karl Druschki.

Climber varieties that are suggested by the committee are Paul's Scarlet, Hoosier Beauty, and MacArthur.

Songs to sing on Planting Day suggested are "Roses of Picardy," "A Wild Irish Rose," "Moonlight and Roses," and When you Look Into the Heart of a Rose."

Nurseries are cooperating in offering roses at a great reduction this week and although two plants will be donated to each school it is hoped that the schools will take advantage of this offering and purchase a few on their own accord.

"THE MESSIAH" TO BE SUNG IN IN SAN JOSE SOON

The Vallesingers of San Jose will make a wonderful Christmas gift to the music lovers of Santa Clara County in their presentation of Handel's greatest masterpieces, "THE MESSIAH," which will be given in the First Methodist Church of San Jose, on the evening of Tuesday, December the 14, at 8:00 o'clock.

"The Messiah" is considered not only the greatest masterpiece of Handel, but also the greatest choral production of all times.

There will be no admission charge to hear "The Messiah" and not even the customary offering will be received. The rendition will be in truth a Christmas gift of the choral organization to music lovers.

The soloists for the occasion will be: Leda Gregory Jackson, soprano; Esther Houk Allen, contralto; Homer DeWitt Pugh, tenor; and William Edward Johnson, baritone.

Miss Myrtle Shafer will preside at the organ. Lena Alice Christopher will preside at the piano, and the entire production will be under the baton of LeRoy V. Brant.

The First Methodist Church is co- the use of their auditorium as their operating in the production of donating share in the Christmas gift, and the San Jose Evening School is doing its large share by permitting the production to be given free of charge. The Vallesingers are an integral part of the San Jose Evening School, and Mrs. Nellie Chope, the Principal of the School, has expressed her pleasure in being able to make this gift to the musical life of the community.

Pupils' Recital

The pupils of Mrs. Vaudine Putman Sanders will appear in recital Saturday evening at the Scottish Rite Temple. A charge of 50 cents for adults will be made.

Mrs. Sanders' pupils are always a great treat and this year's performance will be more so because of the seasonal atmosphere to be portrayed by each group, beginning with the tiny tots.

SERVICE GARAGE CHANGES HANDS

Another business change is chronicled for our growing town The deal came as a bolt from a clear sky while friends were bidding farewell extending best wishes to a departing member of business circles. P. H. Dunlap and W. G. Smiley have purchased the plant, interest and good will of J. F. Wehmeyer is the Service garage and will continue the business of auto repairing and accessory sales. They have taken the exclusive agency for Philco storage batteries and radio apparatus and will make a specialty of electric work on autos.

Walter G. Smiley is an A No. 1 machinist with considerable experience that has made him an efficient workman on all cars.

Percy Dunlap, through his connection with the oil company, has made a number of staunch friends who will be pleased to know that he has decided to pitch his tent in our midst and help us fight our community battles.

These popular young men are hustlers and will doubtless make a success of their new venture.

Mr. Wehmeyer has maintained a good business here and has been an enthusiastic and earnest worker in all civic movements. Although out of the garage business he will continue to sell cars and will make his headquarters at Orchard City garage. We wish Jack ample success in his line here for he and his family are too good citizens to lose.

COUNTY C. OF C. TO MEET DEC. 14

San Jose's new Hotel Sainte Claire has been chosen as the next meeting place of Santa Clara County Consolidated to be held on December 14th at noon.

Wendell C. Thomas and Ray W. Smith, the re-elected President and Secretary, respectively of the organization will read their reports of the activities of the Western meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce held at Colorado Springs, Colorado, December 6-7. The remarkable interest and work shown by the farmers in the recent activities of the Water Conservation committee on the east and west sides of the valley will be reported by W. K. Roberts of Sunnyvale, chairman of the committee.

The County's most successful Prune Week and the practical results attained will be reported by W. F. Powars, the committees, chairman. Nearly 20,000 five pound boxes were sold at cost as an advertising project, and according to Powars, the benefit of this publicity to the county cannot be overrated.

All the members of the Board of Supervisors have been invited and it is expected that each will be present, since the regular meeting of the Board is held that morning.

CLUB TO CAMPAIGN

Moreland Good Will Club held its regular meeting Dec. 1st, at the home of Mrs. H. P. Bean. President called the meeting to order and roll was called, the largest responce of this year. During the business session considerable interest was manifested by the four sections into which the club has been divided, each section to raise as much as possible before close of club year for completion, of their hall. Two of the heads of the sections have made an enviable start, but as yet no public gathering has been held. Look for notices of such later.

Mrs. Anderson in her usual clever way gave a talk upon Renaissance-Architecture.

The social hour followed during which time the hostess served light refreshments.

Adjourned to meet with Mrs. Geo. Payne, Payne Ave, Dec. 15. Mrs. Owen will assist as hostess. It is to be the annual Christmas gathering and an open meeting.

DR. WALL SPEAKS AT CAMPBELL P T A

Thoroughly informed because of his wide experience as a teacher, lawyer and preacher, and vitally interested because he too, is a High School parent, the speaker presented facts and drove home the need to stabilize our homes and restore them to the forces that will best produce the finest possible environment and training. Mr. Wall used many terse, descriptive terms in putting forth the idea and his hope that education might be humanized and speed slackened, particularly making the point that education in itself is not enough; we must all get down to a common moral standard, placing greater emphasis upon some sort of religion.

The most vitally intresting part of his discourse was his appeal to parents of High School students not necessarily boys—to be more interested in their "comings and goings;" be their chums, companions and body guard. Stand back of them ready to protect them from the snares in this age of an over-organized world. He pleaded that we strive to develope men and women of character and not intellectual criminals. As the environment that influences the behavior of High School youth enters into his life as an adult, we must by patient endeavor direct their course and help them in the selection of friends and companions.

The Social half-hour was spent in general discussion and visiting over a cup of delicious coffee and sandwiches furnished by Mesdames Davison,, Keesling, Steers and Hedegard.

Mrs. E. C. Merrill entertained with several Christmas Carols and accompanied the audience in singing the P. T. A. song.

Mrs. Harry Barnes was the speaker chairman.

DRAMA - CLUB SUBJECT

"Drama" was the topic for the Monday program of the Country Woman's Club. Miss Jessie Lewis was chairman of the committee, assisted by Mrs. L. E. Eddlemon and Mrs. H. C. Smith.

Miss Wilma Smith played two piano numbers, Venitienne (4th Barcarolle) by Godard and "Romance" by Sibeluis, following which Miss Lewis read a very complete and dramatic synopsis of "The Miracle." This wonderful production, which is to be staged in San Francisco soon is attracting the attention of play lovers throughout the state.

A one act comedy "Spreading the News" was read by members of the Club, and the committee. Those assisting were, Mesdames Blaine, Hyde, Lenox, Page, Shaw, and Miss Denton.

Mrs. L. J. Carboni favored the ladies with two delightful solos, "Ave Maria, by Luigi Luzzi, and "Duna" by Josephine McGill.

The closing number was a short review of several of the popular plays now on the boards of New York theaters or on the road, given by Mrs. Smith.

KORNTVED--HOGAN

James Hogan, son of Mrs. J. H. Laney of Campbell was married recently in Santa Clara to Dorothea Korntved of King City. They went south for their honeymoon and expect to make their home in this vicinity. Jimmie as he is popularly known is a graduate of the local high school and attended Stanford University.

KIWANIS COMMITTEES MAKE REPORTS

You said it, "Doc did it" and good and plenty too. It was a great day in the prune belt and tinkle of small change was heard throughout the day. This furnished a portion of the entertainment while the exaggerated reports of several of the committee chairmen furnished more. The meeting was more or less of a formal business session at which reports and suggestions for future committee activities were outlined. Guy Farley made a concise combined secretary and treasurer's report showing the club to be in a healthy financial condition.

Leon Miller chairman of the program committee stated that the programs of the past spoke best for his team's work. This has been very well handled.

Dean Whitman and Nick Hedegard for inter-club relations and public improvements both told of the activities of their respective bands of co-workers.

Hal Morton had the club properly classified, Hal Cramer, properly atuned and Hal Tuttle properly directed in the club spirituals. Howling Dervishes are simply out classed when the "Camels" start their noon hour bellow.

The high percentage of club attendance speaks well for the work of Percival Dunlap and committee. Fin-Ance Committee paid its fine for lack of service. Carl Field just simply couldn't get his hands on the dope.

Hurrah for the house committee, the good-natured goats, who do the bulk of the work that insures the club of its eats and looks out for the financial management. Ralph Hyde, Ed Merrill and Carl Field have made most efficient workers.

The publicity grind has been well handled by Steve Sunquist and assistants.

Doc Merrill, President Tac Cutting, Ira Abbott and Cal Bohnett dug up for their reportless reports.

Daddy Russ Kennedy the new "proud papa" was crowned king of festivities and drew the attendance prize which will be more prized by Russ, Jr.

Steve Sunquist, (this is straight) will be the Clean-Cleaner next Wednesday noon. Attorney D. F. Jenkins of Los Gatos will give an unbaised discussion of "Incorporation" as applicable to the small town.

Good things to eat. All prepared by some of the best cooks in the country. Cakes that melt in your mouth, and such goody good salads, and pie, oh how juicy. All yours to take home in exchange for a few nickels. Where? Grange Fair! Of course at the Food Booth, Campbell Dec. 11. That is the day when Jim will come home to his flat, hang up his coat and his hat, look all around, but no wife will he find, but a note on the table he'll spy, and this is what he will read. "Meet me at the fair, don't tell me the lights are shinning anywhere but there, we will trip the light fantastic, and eat hot dogs, and candy, and I will surely think you are a Jim—dandy, if you "Meet me at the Fair." THANK YOU!

The Parents and Teachers Association of Campbell Union High School wish to thank the press and all others who helped to make the Thanksgiving Food Sale a success. In behalf of my faithful band of workers I wish to say "Thank You" to those who brought and to those who helped to advertise, and especially our kind friend, Mr. Gilson.

Most Cordially,
Augusta C. Merrill.

The newly projected Adult evening high school began sessions last week with a good attendnace. D. H. Cramer, principal of the C. U. H. S. conducts bookkeeping and arithmetic classes, Miss Kittie Johnson the applied arts, and T. A. Cutting English and current events. This is a new departure for Campbell and should prove popular, as many "grown-ups" avail themselves of night school classes and extension courses of various kinds.

MARBLE TOURNAMENT

The first marble tournament held at the Campbell Union Grammar School was finished Wednesday. The winners in the low fifth grade were Joe Bloom and Manuel Vintro. Billy Corey and Arleigh Peterson were the next best players.

In the high fifth the winners were Frank Morrey and Edmond Mendonsa. Jean Lear and Milton Hedegard were the next best players in the high fifth grade.

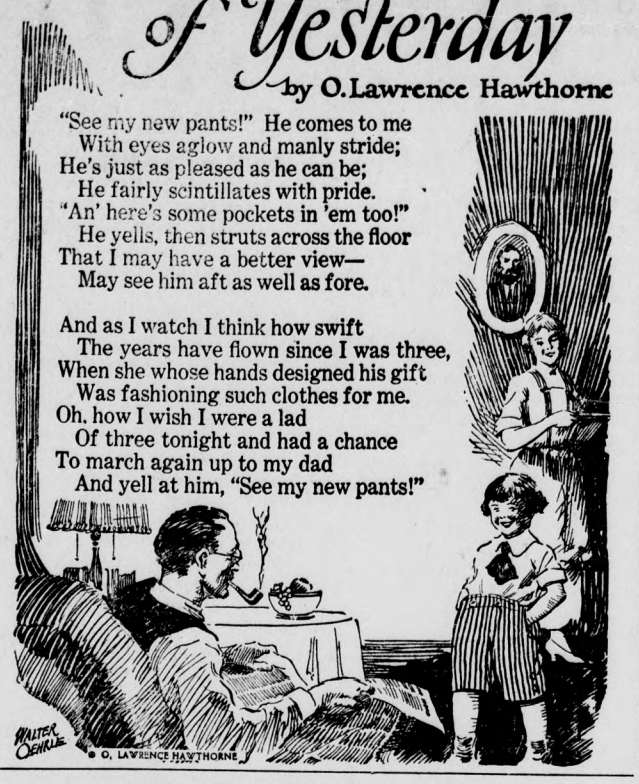
A Glimpse of Yesterday

by O. Lawrence Hawthorne



"See my new pants!" He comes to me
With eyes aglow and manly stride;
He's just as pleased as he can be;
He fairly scintillates with pride.
"An' here's some pockets in 'em too!"
He yells, then struts across the floor
That I may have a better view—
May see him aft as well as fore.

And as I watch I think how swift
The years have flown since I was three,
When she whose hands designed his gift
Was fashioning such clothes for me.
Oh, how I wish I were a lad
Of three tonight and had a chance
To march again up to my dad
And yell at him, "See my new pants!"

THE OLD FASHIONED HOME

Say, what has become of the old-fashioned house, with its sweet perfumed flowers round the door? O what has become of the calico blouse, that mother and sister Sue wore?

Say, what has become of the love and the care, that affection made too strong to roam? And where is the family whose absence was rare, in that quaint little old-fashioned home?

I'll ask just once more of that old-fashioned place, where fortunes and sorrows were wed; and I'll find not the answer till I see the trace, of the romance that long since has fled.

But it's no use to sing of the old-fashioned things, that progress replaces with new; for our grandsons will weep o'er the things they can't keep, and their grandsons will do as they do.

Sequel, what has become of the old-fashioned home? It has traded a wooden wash tub for a porcelain bath tub or refreshing shower. It has changed the splintered flooring and a patch of rag carpet for a hardwood floor of modern hew with a rug of rich design. It has witnessed the old hot cook stove turn into a modern gas range or fireless cooker. It has seen a thousand house flies reduced to a struggling few which the good wife soon puts to rout with a silver-handled swatter.

What has become of the old-fashioned home? It has seen the old organ on which sister played "Tra, la, la, la" turn into a radio that chooses the finest compositions from the ethereal vastness. It has seen disease diminished and longevity produced. It has seen the musty stall where the family mare dreamed of oats and hay, turned into a concrete-floored garage where the plushed-lined motor car honks for gas and oil and trembles to be out on the road.

This has been a wonderful transformation! And in the modern home with all of its conveniences, love still exists and waxes warm where the heart is open and the spirit is right. Righteousness does not diminish with accomodation. The test of virtue is not of mechanics. Invention has not changed human character. Speed, efficiency and sanitation have not contributed to moral delinquency.

It is to rejoice that material welfare has thus advanced. Man's attitude toward, and action in, life has not gone wrong; it has but changed to meet new conditions. Attractions outside the home, and the means of obtaining them, are the real tests of whether or not native virtue can withstand temptation and the pull of intemperance. Modern life is dangerous? Yes. So is a violin. For it can make an audience pray or swear, depending upon the manner and the skill or lack of it, with which the player draws the bow. It is not the instruments of life, but the way we play on them, that counts for good or ill.

A MAN'S CAR NOT HIS CASTLE

Though the saying is true that many people practically live in their motor cars, the U. S. Supreme Court has decided that such a "home" on wheels is not a man's "castle." Before starting out for an automobile ride it is well to look over the old bus to see that no one has stored some lemon rum anywhere about her; as she might be seized, searched and confiscated in the renewed efforts at enforcing Prohibition.

Congress will now try to make both ends of the government meet that have already overlapped.

The period of waiting is materially shortened for anyone whose funds earn four per cent interest, compounded semi-annually, in a Mercantile Trust Company of California savings account. The Sunday School of the Congregational Church is preparing a Christmas pantomine entitled "The Door of the Inn." Through story and song the familiar Christmas story will be retold in a new and impressive way. The audience will see pictured before them the Kahn at Bethlehem with the thronging crowds demanding admittance, and the guests who were welcomed while Mary and Joseph were denied. The Story will be read by Mrs. W. I. Merrill and the music is under the direction of Mrs. A. B. Townsend, with Mr. Theodore Cutting as stage director.

This program will be given on Thursday evening, Dec. 23. Everyone is invited to come and bring your friends.

ALUMNI TO PLAY SAN JOSE HERE SATURDAY

Next Saturday night at eight o'clock the high Alumni basketball team will play the San Jose Alumni as the San Jose squad has not been playing long this year, little is known of their strength, but as they have nearly the same team as last year, a good game may be expected.

The "Galloping Camels" have defeated ever yteam they have played this season. One game was lost to Matson Navigators, but a return game played in San Francisco, was won. The Matson team had previously won seventeen games straight, defeating some of the best teams around the bay. Campbell's long list of victories includes the Sport Shop, Sa nJose Hardware, Crystal Billiards (champions of San Jose League,) Morgan Hill Comets tiwce, and the Watsonville Y. M. C. A. twice.

Last Saturday night Campbell displayed its scoring power when they slaughtered the Morgan Hill Comets, 56 to 11. Eddleman was high point man with 16. Sullivan starred for the losers, making all of their points.

The starting line-up for next Saturday's game will probably be Kalas and Eddleman, forwards; C. Nelson, center; Reed and Shelley, guards. Ralph Noddin, who has ably coached the Campbell squad, has great reserve strength in M. Nelson, Stiendorf, and Cramer.

The Alumni hav ea team that will compare with the best and deserve all the credit and support and help them on to championship," suggests Robert Feathers.

San Francisco, Dec. 8: The first step toward making California Prunes the breakfast dish of the nation will be taken here tomorrow when the executive committee of the California Prune Advertising Fund meets to approve a program of merchandising, advertising and publicity directed at the great mass markets of the east and middle west during 1927.

The fund, which has been contributed by the prune growers of the state for the purpose of educating the consuming public on the health and food value of California Prunes, will be adminstered by a group of fifteen outstanding figures in the dried fruit industry, including representatives of both the independent and co-operative packers, as well as the growers. Dwight K. Grady, secretary of the California Dried Fruit Exchange is secretary of the general advertising committee.

As a preliminary to the meeting tomorrow, representatives of N. W. They were accompanied by Secretary Grady and Mr. F. W Alport, the American commercial attache at Berlin. Calls were made on prominent growers and packers to obtain a first hand picture of present conditions in the world's greatest prune producing district, and plans were formulated for keeping California prunes prominently in the public mind both at home and abroad.

Christmas parcels are not being mailed at the Campbell Postoffice as rapidly as is advisable to ensure their safe transportion and arrival.

The following dates for mailing are given out by the postal department as the last possible to insure delivery.

Gifts and cards addressed to points within one day's travel should be mailed not later than Dec. 20; within two days travel, not later than Dec. 18; within 3 day's, not later than Dec. 16, for more distant points, not later than Dec. 14. Parcels and cards for local delivery should be mailed not later than Dec. 22.

The early mailing of Christmas cards is just as important as parcels. Millions of these cards, separate and in envelopes, are mailed each year. Consequently great congestion and delay occurs when they are all mailed within a day or two of Christmas. Therefore, if you want your Christmas greetings to reach your relatives and friends on or before Christmas Day, follow the instructions in the preceding paragraph.

The Canby Grange has just completed the construction of a large community hall at the little village of Canby, Modoc county, the money for which was raised by the holding of open air dances semi-monthly during the last summer. The opening of the new building was celebrated recently by a bazaar given by the ladies of the Canby Grange.

LONE SCOUTS ORGANIZE

The California Booster's Tribe, Lone Scouts of America, of Campbell, was recently organized. Four meetings have been held to date. Seven members attended the first meeting, twelve the third and sixteen at the fourth meeting. The last meeting was held on Tuesday, Dec. 7. Members at present are: Harris Gardner, Lawrnece Templeton, Roy Kosick, Mark Tusup, Bernard Holmes, Spencer Holmes, Donald Loughlin, Dick Robinson, Duane Loughlin, Melvil Voge, Harry Bloom, Willard Loughlin, Albert Nelson and Henry Stickter.

Some of the recent doings have been the initiations, scouting exercises, boosting contest and several long hikes.

Tribe Chief Willard Loughlin thought of a very good idea to interest the members to do a little boosting. His idea was to give the scout who gets the most points a prize at the close of the contest. Points may be won by attending meetings, good discipline at meetings, subscribing to Lone Scout Amateur publications and Boy's Life, corresponding with brother scouts, and securing new members.

Most of the Lone Scouts are carrying on a correspondence with brother scouts in foreign countries and in the United States.

Officers of the tribe are Willard Loughlin, chief; Harris Gardner, Sachem; Spencer Holmes, Scribe; and Dick Robinson, Wampum Bearer.

The scouts are trying their best to secure new members. However, only fellows who really wish to add to the good of the organization are wanted. Let's go, fellows!

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

Campbell community should uphold its reputation for the big co-operative spirit and shop early that store clerks and postal clerks may not be too over worked at the eleventh hour. There are a plenty, who thru lack of this Christmas spirit or forgetfulness delay to the last which always rushes all concerned, and the thoughtful ones can certainly relieve the tension.

Our merchants have made an extra effort this season to make early shopping advisable and handy. All sorts of pretty and useful gifts are on display on the shelves and here again the community spirit should move all to buy at home as far as possible. These merchants are doing what they can to make this town a desirable place to live in, both by their efforts and financial support and their good works should not go unrewarded.

Remember the golden rule and apply it right here at home that you may see and feel its good effects.

The Van Nuys plant of the Fred B. Neuhoff canning company has packed 95,000 cases of tomatoes so far this year, against a total of 50.000 cases last year. Earlier in the season, 25,000 cases of fruit also were handled. The value of the total pack is about $150,000

Decision to start work immediately on buildings at the new University of California campus in Westwood Hills, Los Angeles, was reached by the Board of Regents at its meeting in San Francisco last week. First of the buildings to rise, the report indicated, will be the auditorium and library structures.

Prospects of an abundance of irrigation water for next year are bright as a result of the storm that has swept over northern California. Snow fell above the 5,000 foot elevation. New carpets of snow have covered Mr. Baldy, Mt. Shasta and Lassen Peak, and all mountain ranges in Shasta and Trinity counties.

HI SCHOOL HAPPENINGS

The night school department of the High School has started off with much enthusiasm. The classes in applied arts under Miss Johnson and Mrs. Abbott are proving to be the most popular having an enrollment of about fifteen each. Miss Johnson is giving work in leather and various decorative materials, and many Christmas trinkets are already under way. Mrs. Abbott is giving instruction in basketry. Mr. Cramer and Mrs. Dart are giving a course in bookkeeeping and arithmetic. This course is almost as popular as the work in art with a registration of over twentty. Several of the merchants of the town and one or two members of the school board are availing themselves of this training. For the work in English and current events, however, little demand has developed.

Latin—A Dead Language?

The popular opinion among students concerning the study of Latin seems to be that it is a waste of time, but let us consider for a moment the actual facts.

In the first year the Latin student secures a clearer understanding of English, Grammar and Spelling. Words that before seemed meaningless come to have a new significance when their derivation and history are known. The sudent is also conscious of broadening his cultural horizon.

In the second year the student takes up the study of Caesar's Gaulic Wars. In translating these interesting accounts of Caesar's career, the student has the satisfaction of putting into definite practice knowledge gained in the first year of study. He also has History from source material. the pleasure of reading Roman Not the cut and dried report of what some one told one else but the actual report of the person upon whose shoulders rested the responsibility. Through his amount one actually becomes acquainted with one of the world's great men, Julius Caesar.

The usual project work carried on by the class is the reproduction in a sand box of Caesar's Campaigns, his camps, etc. These are exceedingly interesting, the diffeernt lines of attack being represented by colord toothpicks and colored string. His famous bridge is also reproduced on sticks and sand.

In the third year the student takes up Cicero, and becomes acquainted with one of the world's great orators and thinkers, a master of prose and style.

In the fourth year comes Virgil. From him, the student gains an appreciation of Latin poetry, and a knowledge of the customs of Rome.

Miss Jenkins and Miss Darrow of the Latin Department are trying to teach what has been called "a dead language" in such a living way, that it shall prove to be as vital a subject as any taught in High School, is the opinion of Miriam Blaine, special Press reporter.

Mrs. Katherine Boyd, a pioneer of Shasta county, died a short time ago in Sacramento in the home of her son, William Boyd, at the great age of 92 years. Mrs. Boyd joined her husband in Horsetown, Shasta county, in 1854. They were married in Pennsylvania, her husband preceding to Horsetown by two years. Mrs. Boyd left Shasta county twenty years ago.

LOCAL THEATER AIDS PLANTING OF ROSES DAY

The Strand theater of Los Gatos is showing its cooperation along with the Flower Lovers Club of this community, the Chamber of Commerce, and Santa Clara County Consolidated in connection with Rose Planting Day, December 10th, by running a slide every day this week, urging our citizens to plant roses on the same day the schools plant theirs.

Every theater in Santa Clara Countty is co-operating with the Planting Day Committee and assisting in its effort to have each family plant at least one bush of roses in its yard on December 10th. Many bushes were planted last year and it is anticipated at present that twice the number will be set out this year.

On each slide is an attractive picture of three kiddies planting a rose bush. Below it, is the slogan that was chosen last year as the best amongst thousands that were turned in: "Make Santa Clara Valley The Rose Garden of the World."

This is an ungrateful world. Can any of you name a single thing you got last Christmas?
